George Herman Ruth, better known as "The Babe," in one of his most famous sports scenes shown here as he slugs home run #701 over the fence. The date was July 14, 1934 and the Yankees were away at Detroit. That fourth inning homer off Detroit pitcher Auker also scored Gomez and Rolfe.

Babe Ruth was voted the all-time greatest athlete in a poll of the nation's top sports writers and broadcasters conducted by the Miller Brewing Company in honor of its 125th Anniversary during 1980.
